Klug had a five inch pearl knife in his possession and threatened to use it on the officers. Klug had two knife wounds on his arm and hand. It Happened Here

THE STABLE

The lantern hangs from the center beam.
Hazy with frost and breathy steam.
Munching sounds come from manger and stall
While flickering shadows play on the wall;
There's the stamp of a hoof, the flick of a tail
And the drumming of milk in a filling pail.
In the loose straw he cuddles his feet
And a three-legged stool makes a small boy's seat;
If he sits quite still, not making a sound,
A little mouse ventures and plays around;
Safe in a basket, roomy and stout,
Are the gray cat's kittens he knows about;
With gentle nickers Jennie, the mare,
Nibbles the coat of her son and heir.
There is frost on the clapboards, frost on the floor,
And frost in the chinks of the double door;
Corn in the corncrib is glistening gold,
More than Aladdin's cave could hold.
The rafters are hung with cobwebby net
And knotholes and nails show a jewelled fret.
Some one's feet crunch the crisp sparkling snow
And a voice sings out, "Come, Son, let's go."
S'Amuser.

Choral Society program well received; artist of oratorio is a sensation

Nearly a capacity audience filled the Presbyterian church in Arlington Heights Sunday evening to hear "The Messiah" by Handel, which was presented by the Northwest Suburban Choral society, under the able direction of Mr. Theodore Miltzer.

John Macdonald, a nationally known oratorio and opera singer was the outstanding personality of the performance. Mr. Macdonald's interpretations are always sincere and convincing. He was particularly impressive in the Aria, "Why do the Nations so Furiously Rage."

The fact that Mr. Macdonald masters all of the great difficulties with ease is not news to those who have heard him previously, nor is it necessary to speak of his wonderful command of voice and diction. Since his appearance of eight years ago he has however added dignity and maturity which makes it easy to understand why he is such a favorite today.

Harold Townsend recognized as a singer of high merit sang the tenor arias. His work was also outstanding in the spirit and earnestness in which he presented his work. His fine voice and artful presentation contributed much to his excellent singing of "Comfort for My Peoples." He will surely receive a warm welcome at a re-appearance.

Barbara McWharter needs no introduction. She is one of our own girls and we can justly be proud of her. Barbara made her debut in an important work before her own townspeople — in itself a strenuous task. With a well modulated voice of fine quality and an excellent appreciation of pitch, Barbara scored a big success in her first appearance in a major assignment. Mr. Theodore Miltzer, with whom she is still studying, deserves much of the credit for her success.

Too much can not be said about the artful organ work contributed to the program by Miss Mercie Heise. Only those who are thoroughly familiar with the difficulties presented in such a great work can fully appreciate the superb assistance given by Miss Heise. Nevertheless those who were just listeners could not help but be impressed with the ease with which Miss Heise surmounted all of such difficulties.

The chorus deserves full credit for the fine work in the local numbers. The Northwest Suburban Choral society is a group only recently organized. While it is the support of some experienced voices, most of the members participated in oratorio singing for the first time. All the more credit to them for the good performance. The chorus was most effective in the second part, no doubt because the individual members were inspired by the outstanding work of the soloists.

Mr. Miltzer is a well qualified director, having been a member of the staff of Chicago music conservatories. He is able to bring out the maximum quality of the voices of the choral society that held the audience spellbound.

An organization like the Choral Society should receive support from the public to the extent that financial obligations can be met without resorting to the sale of admissions. In the times ahead of us we will be in great need of uplifting and inspiring occasions. We must see to it that the cultural heritages which are put into our trust for safekeeping will not be destroyed. This can only be done by thoroughly familiarizing the younger generation with the treasure the past has produced for them.

Arlington Cub Pack News

Plans are being made for a big meeting in February which will be the annual Father-Cubs banquet. Details haven't been worked out, but it is expected that there will be some entertainment as well as a speaker who can make an interesting talk to boys of Cub age.

All of the Den Dads are members of the Cub Pack committee, under the sponsorship of the Arlington Heights P. T. A., and each will have an important part in the banquet arrangements.

Last week there were only four Cubs at the Den 6 meeting (Mr. Bouffard) but there were five achievements passed. There were five Cubs at the Den 10 meeting (Mr. Monroe) and all of them passed achievements.

The Cubs of Dens 5 and 11 (Mr. Archibald and Mr. Jones) are making Indian war shields. That seems like a pretty good idea for all of the Cubs. Headresses have been made, feathers awarded, and now war shields.

PRICE OF PAIN

by C. W. LUSSMAN
of Sieburg Pharmacy

It is human to seek to alleviate pain. Headache, rheumatism, toothache, any discomfort sends the average person to the medicine cabinet searching for a mild opiate or relief agency. Like everything else, however, pain has its price which must be paid. It is best to ask a doctor to discover the real basis of the trouble, to diagnose and prescribe the cure. Temporary relief is needed, but permanent cure is extremely important. The doctor's prescription is also important and right with it must go a high degree of skill on the part of the pharmacist in order that the specific may be accurately compounded.

Waits ten days to complete phone call to brother in Hawaii

Mrs. Mary Csanadi, Arlington Heights was able to talk over transcontinental radio with her brother, Edward M. Stone in Hawaii Saturday evening. A request for the call was filed with the local telephone office December 23. After waiting 11 days, staying home every possible moment, ready to accept the call when it did come Saturday afternoon from San Francisco that the call would come thru that evening.

The phone conversations were censored the same as letters. Mrs. Csanadi was advised prior to the call, of the things that she could not talk about, one of which was the mention of any figures, including the time of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Csanadi received this week a postal card from her brother that was mailed December 12. The card reads in part, "The situation here is well in hand — no need to worry — weathered the attack O. K. Don't permit any propaganda or rumors upset you. I'm mad enough now to gladly give my life to get even with those Keep fighting and take care of things and your health. I'll handle things from this end." Chicago Daily News and Chicago Tribune carried pictures Saturday and Monday editions of two members of the army signal corps measuring an exploded Japanese bomb that fell December 7. One of men holding the tape is Sgt. Edward M. Stone.

Mrs. Csanadi says that the local telephone office was very courteous and the operators showed as much interest as herself in getting the call completed and freely answered the many inquiries made by Mrs. Csanadi.

They went to Pensacola to visit their son, George, who is stationed there. They spent three happy days with George and his pals "Bob" Bruhnke and Mr. Wiley, a South Carolina recruit. Northern Illinois District

News items for this department should be mailed not later than Monday to Arlene Nagel, publicity chairman, 804 N. Douglas St., Arlington Heights.

January 9—nine days of our new life already spent. How? Better than last year. We have had an opportunity to do at least one good thing — have we? How will the other 356 days be spent?

Over the holidays our societies welcomed back many of our members in the service. The holidays saw changes in membership, too. Carl Granzin of Arlington is the latest enlistee we know about. We send him away together with those on furlough with a deep prayer that they will never forget that their guardian angel is with them wherever they are.

Speaking of farewells, after receiving such acclaim for claiming a new job in a distant city, Carl Schlomann of Arlington Heights decides that home is the best after all. He was back here with us for caroling on Christmas Eve. You could at least have stayed long enough to let our words sink in. Anyway, we're glad you're still one of us, Carl.

Plans for the winter rally have been made. It will be held at St. Andrew's Park Ridge on February 1 beginning at 3 p. m. with the usual business meeting. An unusual note will be struck at meal time for the leaguers have planned a sumptuous Smorgasbord — you know, one of those affairs at which you don't have to be afraid to eat too much—everyone for himself. Then in the evening, a full-length sound movie will be shown, Harold Lloyd in "Cat's Paw." It all sounds interesting, doesn't it? Let's plan to be there.

Don't forget to plan to enter some portion of the District Talent Fest scheduled for May 16 and 17 at River Forest. Plans will soon be started for our own Zone Talent Night so be sure to keep an eye open for data. Nelda Studtmann has been appointed Zone Talent Scout, Norm Winecke is the District Leaguer Reporter, and the writer, Promotions Chairman for the District.

Engagements galore round Christmas time — Verona Rohlwing of Schaumburg received a beautiful diamond from George Hinrichs of Palatine; Elsie Stier of Arlington received one from Wilfred Wille. These are just two of the many in the various congregations and societies.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Minnie E. Schrader, wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for the beautiful floral offerings and help rendered during their recent bereavement.

Mrs. W. J. Heffernan
Henry H. Schrader.

Garden club to hear talk on 'Gardens for Defense'

"Growing Vegetables for Defense" will be the topic discussed at the next meeting of the Arlington Heights Garden club which will be held in the North side school at 8 p. m., Jan. 14.

Mr. Martin will also show colored films taken at the Garden show which was held at Melrose Farm owned by the University of Chicago, last summer. He will also talk about the proper food for fertilizing flowers and vegetables.

A social hour will follow the program and the hostesses Mrs. J. Y. Beatty and Mrs. M. W. Grigsby will serve refreshments. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Farm company votes $55,000 dividend

22 per cent over last year; income totals $600,000

The board of directors of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company in a special meeting held recently voted dividends of $55,000.00 to be paid to farmers in Lake and Cook counties. This dividend will be paid at the annual stockholders meeting to be held at Lake Zurich, January 24.

This huge dividend was made possible by the economical management of the company in holding the operating expenses at a low figure. This is by far the largest dividend ever paid and exceeds that of last year by $10,000.00. It represents 6 per cent on Preferred Stock, 7 per cent on common stock and 15 per cent on miscellaneous purchases consisting of feeds, seeds, and fuel oil and 15 per cent on petroleum products.

The audit of the company showed a large increase in business amounting to nearly $600,000.00. Officials attribute the increase largely to the quality of merchandise that this company is servicing, of which, Blue Seal feeds, Blue Seal lubricating oil and Magic Aladin gasoline constitutes the major portion.

Lake-Cook Farm Supply company has completed fourteen successful years of business in which a substantial growth has been made from year to year and attractive dividends have always been paid. The company services the farm trade of Lake and Cook counties with a full line of farm supplies, and is entirely owned and operated by the farmers.

The board of directors is made up of active farmers in the territory, eight from each county, as follows:

Elmer Harris, Alfred Landmeier, D. H. Minto, Ed. Stumpf, Willard Darroll, Jacob Ouwenga, Louis Huebsch, C. A. Faulkner.

Whitney Rockenbach, Ben Snyder, Bert Edwards, A. J. Weidner, Louis Luerssen, Art Maue, Harvey Adair, Homer J. Long.

Fire destroys age-old church on Dundee road

The sanctuary of one of the oldest Evangelical congregations in northern Cook county was destroyed Sunday evening when the U. E. church at Dundee and Sanders rd., North Northfield was razed by fire. The fire, which apparently started from an overheated furnace, had made great headway before fire fighting equipment appeared. The Wheeling Department was the first to bring help, and the fire was under control when the water supply was exhausted and the burning building was doomed.

Bucket brigades brought water to the engine from neighbor's wells which saved the parsonage, the walls of which began to sear and would have gone without the teamwork of the volunteer fire fighters.

The congregation was organized over 100 years ago in the home of Daniel Stangor in Wheeling township. The first sanctuary was a log cabin built in 1839. The sanctuary which burned, was built in 1893 and had been improved several times.

Church Services Continue

Church services of the congregation will be held until further notice in the Grove school house, half mile east of the church grounds. Pastor J. Russell Davis states that all church activities will be carried on as usual in either the school house or homes of members of the congregation.

FBI instruct police chiefs on defense matters

Raymond H. Lesch, chief of Police of Wheeling, is one of the few police officers in the Northwest suburbs to have completed the defense course that was offered recently by the FBI. The course extended for a full week with all day sessions and was held in the U. S. Custom building, Chicago. Chief Lesch secured much valuable information regarding bombs, their construction and handling, together with information regarding the procedure that should be followed in case of an air raid.

Mr. Lesch is now fully acquainted with many of the defense activities adopted in England, which will ultimately be somewhat followed in this country. A resume of the notes that Chief Lesch took during the FBI school will appear in coming issues of the Herald.

"There are two kinds of defense," says Mr. Lesch, "active defense which is the part that the armed forces play in attacking enemies of our country; and passive defense which falls on the unarmed citizens of our country to protect their own lives and property. With the advent of the aerial warfare, the latter has greatly increased. When fifty years ago it was confined to the immediate territory occupied by the armies, today it extends as far as a thousand miles from armed station. The private citizens must learn how to protect themselves in this new kind of warfare. Nobody else can do it for them."

Tire ration board set up at Palatine

New tire rationing committees, appointed on a county-wide basis to displace the village committees previously appointed, were announced this week by Henry Pope, Jr., state tire rationing administrator.

Ray L. La Londe of Palatine is chairman of Cook County tire rationing committee control No. 16, which has jurisdiction over Barrington, Hanover, Palatine and Schaumburg townships. John H. D. Blanke of Barrington and A. H. Taylor of Bartlett are other members. The office for receiving applications is at 133 Park avenue, Barrington, in the office of V. D. Hawley, Barrington township supervisor.

Only those car and truck owners listed in the seven groups announced last week are eligible for new tires under the rationing plan, and others waiting their time to fill out application blanks, committee members said. To obtain new tires, an applicant must have his present tires inspected by official inspectors, and obtain their approval on the application blanks. Applications then are presented to the committee, and if approved, a non-transferable certificate is given to the applicant.

Life inspectors in the four townships of Cook County are Wilbur Brewer of the Main Motor Company, Barrington; Adolph Kunze of Palatine and Harvey Schnadt of Bartlett. Inspectors are not permitted to charge for inspecting tires, but may charge not more than 50 cents for removing a tire and tube. Tires may be purchased from any dealer, but the motorist must trade in his old tires and tubes.

The January quota for the four Cook county townships is 18 tires and 15 tubes for passenger cars, motorcycles and light trucks, and 14 tires and 12 tubes for trucks and buses. If that number is not sold during the period, the remainder are thrown back into a national reserve. They may be carried over into the next month's quota.

Motorists eligible to purchase new tires include physicians, surgeons, visiting nurses and veterinarians; ambulances; fire fighting equipment, police vehicles, garbage removal trucks and mail delivery cars; public service vehicles with a capacity of 10 or more passengers; trucks for ice and fuel delivery; road maintenance, public utilities, common carriers; farm tractors, industrial, mining and construction equipment.

Hits train; escapes injury

Fred Kropp of Elia township, had a narrow escape from serious injury one day last week when he drove his truck into a C. & N. W. train which was slowing down for the Palatine station.

It wasn't Fred's idea to drive into the train but the street was icy and although he put on his emergency brake, the truck kept right on sliding toward that train. The engine got by before the collision but the steps of the cars and the truck got into a bumping match with the result that Fred escaped with a bruised wheel rim and a cut tire.

While Fred is congratulating himself on his escape, he is wondering how he's going to get a new tire with all this tire rationing going on.

Itasca realtor sees an active market in 1942

Considerable activity in the suburban area real estate market in 1942 was forecast this week by Wesley Luehring, Itasca, retiring president of the DuPage County Real Estate Board. Increased defense goods production in Chicago territory bringing in hundreds of families from all over the nation, the removal of hundreds of families from relief rolls to payrolls, and the desire for a stable investment that won't evaporate or blow away are reasons he assigns for a favorable outlook for the market. DuPage county, he says, is bound to share in this new activity.

Mr. Luehring is a director on the Illinois Real Estate Board, representing district two which comprises suburban Chicago.

When Mr. Luehring turned over his office January 8 to his successor, he had finished his second term as president, the first member of the board to have been elected to this office more than once. Under his direction the DuPage County Real Estate Board has made notable accomplishments. Besides ending the year with the largest cash balance in its history, the board has established a multiple listing system which provides each of its members with the listings of every other member in the county. This has resulted in the sale of many properties.

Another important improvement under Mr. Luehring was the setting up of a new appraisal system. The board now actively engages in making appraisals for outside loan agencies, mortgage houses, etc.

A third constructive act was the establishment of loan agencies through local brokers for every community in the DuPage county. Through the efforts of the DuPage County Real Estate Board all HOLC properties in the county were 100 per cent sold. There are now none for sale.

The installation of the new officers for the present year took place at the Light House, Glen Ellyn, Thursday. Homer C. Martin, president of the state association delivered the address. Harris C. Harmon, state association secretary was also present.

The new officers are: Edward Blatter, Villa Park, president; Edwin Chase, Lombard, vice president; Wesley Luehring, Itasca, downers Grove, secretary; L. L. Hare, Villa Park, treasurer. The new directors are: Earl Whidden, Downers Grove; Leo Litroth, Downers Grove; LeRoy Roath, Lombard; Zeth Mayer, Lombard, (to fill vacancy).

Barrington homes destroyed by fire

The farm home of Henry Scher on Sutton road, Barrington township, was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. Occupants used windows to escape. Fire departments of Barrington and Dundee answered the call. All of the home contents were destroyed. It is believed that the fire started by an overheated furnace.

The Fred Rieke home on Barrington road was destroyed Monday by a fire which started in the attic probably from defective wiring. An ice box and a washing machine were the only things saved. The burned house was modern throughout with all conveniences.

Special bowling match for Red Cross at Mt. Prospect

The Mt. Prospect American Legion and Auxiliary cooperating with the Red Cross, will stage an individual five game bowling match between Bill Plesch of the Monarch Classic team and Joe Cordula of the famous Randolph league at the Mt. Prospect alleys this Sunday.

A contest between outstanding bowlers should prove exciting to their many friends, and also be an incentive to bring out many others who wish to join in boosting the Red Cross fund in their community.

Town-warming meetings to be held Jan. 25 - Feb. 5

Barrington will be a gathering place again this year for world-wide celebrities when the fourth annual Barrington Town-Warming gets under way, according to plans announced this week by Clayton N. Watkins program chairman.

Town-warming will open on Jan. 25 and continue through Feb. 5. Meetings will be held nightly, except for Saturday, Jan. 31, in the Barrington high school auditorium.

Among the well-known figures who will appear on the program this year for the first time are: Dr. William L. Stidger, head of the Boston university school of theology; Dr. William Lyon Phelps; Lewis E. Lawes, former warden of Sing Sing penitentiary; Denis Conan Doyle, son of Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of the Sherlock Holmes novels; and Carroll Binder, foreign editor and director of the foreign service of the Chicago Daily News.

"Old-timers" who will return again this year are Dr. Roy L. Smith, voted the most popular speaker on the 1941 program; Channing Pollock, and Dr. James Shelby Thomas.

Dr. Stidger, who will be the opening speaker on Jan. 25, will talk on "The Look Ahead." He is author of the column, "Getting the Most Out of Life," in the Chicago Daily News, and broadcasts at 4:30 o'clock every Monday, Wednesday and Friday over radio station WENR. He has written 35 books, including one entitled "Henry Ford—the Man and His Motives," and counts among his personal friends such notables as Ford, Ethel Barrymore, Jack Dempsey, William Allen White and Edwin Markham.

Dr. Phelps, who speaks Jan. 26, is often called "the greatest living expert of the English language." His topic will be "The Art of Living."

Lawes, well-known for his work in the New York penitentiary, is the author of "20,000 Years in Sing Sing" and has gained a reputation as an organizer of Boys' clubs. His subject is: "Crime and the Home."

Doyle is as well-known in England as in his illustrious father, and was selected by the London Daily Sketch as one of six leaders of religious thought in England. "Will This War End Christianity?" will be his subject.

Binder, who will discuss "The World in the News," has served as chief resident correspondent in Italy, Russia and London, and has covered wars and revolutions in every corner of the globe. He has interviewed Mussolini of Italy, Matsuoaka and Hirohito of Japan, Litvinov of Russia and H. H. Kung of China.

Representatives of Barrington organizations will meet next Thursday in the dining room of Jewel Tea Co., Inc., to discuss plans for the program.

Boy Scouts and Cubs reach peak in membership

The program for the Annual Boy Scout Week which will be celebrated from February 4 to 12 will emphasize "Strong for Service to America."

The Northwest Suburban Council has just completed a year in which great progress has been made in all phases of the program and the registered membership as of December 31, is the largest in both Scouts and Cubs that the Council has ever had.

There are now 745 Scouts and Sea Scouts in 32 Troops and Ships and 656 Cubs in 17 Packs, or a total boy membership of 1,401. This is a net gain on 7.7% in Scouts and 8.1% in Cubs during the year. The total membership including 375 registered Scouters and Cubbers is 1,776.

There were six new troops and three new packs organized during the year. This membership is lined up, organized and prepared for service to aid the Local Defense Councils for war effort and civilian defense projects.

One of the most important contributions to the welfare of America is the training which Boy Scouts and Cubs receive in the regular scouting program which prepares them for special service. Special emphasis will be placed this year on training for emergency service and in camping.

With increased activity due to the enlarged membership, the possibility of leaders being called to the armed service and the more active training program of scouting, additional leadership is needed. A splendid opportunity for satisfactory service awaits any man qualified who may desire to work in Scouting.

Forest River news

The Edmund Subrens spent New Year's Eve with friends in Des Plaines. They report having quite a hilarious time.

Mrs. Otto Bolstad's mother has had a relapse and has been taken to the Evanston hospital. 1941 did not treat the Bolstads nor the Wm. Cooks any too well, let's hope 1942 is kinder.

The James Scharts celebrated the farewell to 1941 with Jack's family in Chicago. They say they sent the old year on its way with a bang.

Lucille Mammia was one of the lucky ones this year. Santa brought her a beautiful fur coat from him. Here's wishing you luck and happiness Lucy.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Conrad on Woodland drive are the proud parents of a baby boy born Jan. 4, 1942. This is the Conrad's second child. They have a daughter, Judy, six years old.

The River Forest Booster's will hold their regular meeting Tuesday evening, January 13, at 8 p. m.

The Forest River Booster's Women's Auxiliary held their first Christmas party Tuesday evening, Dec. 30, 1941, at Hapsburg's Inn on River road. Most of the members attended and all had a gala time.

The F. R. B. Women will hold their regular meeting of the month Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 13, at 1 p. m. at the community house.

Barrington new police car provides two-way radio

All registered nurses in Palatine township are asked to register with Dr. E. S. Williams as a part of the Civilian Defense program which the local authorities are outlining in cooperation with the Red Cross.

Even though the nurses have registered for emergency service somewhere else, if they live in Palatine they are asked to get their names on the home registration list.

This registration of nurses is to give the local defense authorities and the Red Cross an idea of available nursing service in this locality in case of an emergency where the help of the local group might be called for as in case of an emergency in this immediate vicinity.

Dr. Williams, who heads that department for the Palatine Civilian Defense council, also asks that any women who desire to take a short nursing course also register at once.

The nursing class will be conducted by the Red Cross and it is the purpose of the Red Cross through these nursing classes, to train 100,000 women the first year so that they will have at least a rudimentary knowledge of the nursing profession, that could be used in case of an emergency.

Full particulars as to this class and the qualifications for enrollment may be had from Dr. Williams, who is accepting registrations of applicants.

'Snake' Farms

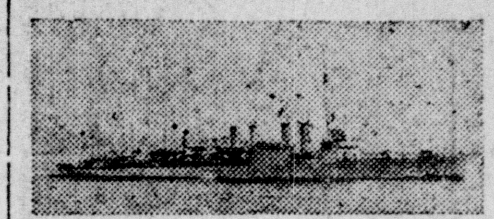

Practically all of the so-called "snake farms" are merely holding places for specimens captured in the wild state and it has never proved practical actually to breed and raise snakes on a commercial scale. As long as an abundant supply is available in the wild state at a low cost, there is little incentive to experiment with true snake farming.

'Farmers have a part in defense,' says Hughes

Civil defense boards are being set up in various towns in the county. It is considered that farmers adjacent to these towns will be considered in that area.

"We wish to call farmers' attention to the Civil Defense work that is being instituted the county over," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "Our first thought is that Civil Defense has to do all the citizens can to protect themselves in a bombing raid, and raids interior are remote, and farmers are scattered and therefore comparatively safe.

"We are beginning to realize that this is only a part of Civil Defense. This is a war where the whole people are required to co-operate to support a gigantic, expensive war effort, and our usual civil lives are going to be disrupted.

"Civil Defense means the organization of citizens for parcelling out certain restricted goods — tires now, and many things else later on the longer the struggle goes on. This makes Civil Defense vital to farmers as they use many goods that are to be rationed.

"Citizens are expected to voluntarily signify their role in the Civil Defense organization by going to their nearest Defense organization and asking for a registration blank.

"Blanks are obtainable usually at the city hall or the headquarters of the Civil Defense office now being established. There are a few questions some which refer to voluntary service you might be able to perform which may be filled in as you see fit.

"So far many things have been thought out for farmers to do. To keep such ideas in the background that may be some one's imaginings, we are asking our local Defense chairman, Mr. Homer Byrd of Arlington Heights, to get us information from headquarters about things that are essential.

"We have also requested that farm leaders, as Earl Smith, president of the I.A.A., be contacted in this area to adopt recommendations to our local conditions. For instance, what has black-outs to do with farmers, are they supposed to participate, and why from a military point of view? Mr. Byrd is supplying us with this information and farmers will be advised thru the press and otherwise how they are to participate.

All out for defense

Paddock Publications are all out for defense and the other activities that will aid Uncle Sam to win the war. This page and similar pages in the weeks to come will carry to our readers news of local defense activities and Red Cross efforts. This service is open to all communities served Paddock Publications, but unless the news matter arrives early in the week publication might necessarily be held until the following week.

"Pray Today"

When the President of these United States proclaimed New Year's Day as a day of prayer there must have been some purpose for his proclamation. To some of us it seems that Our Leader wanted America to turn to a power greater than any in use at the present moment. Perhaps he recalled the quotation of Tennyson's, "More things are wrought by prayer than this old world dreams of." We in America need prayer and we need divine guidance.

Throughout the land people are gathering for sessions of prayer; this week since this is known as the week of prayer. A suggestion has come from the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America that daily through the nation "prayer minutes" be observed. We of the Arlington Heights Methodist church have opened the sanctuary daily for those of the community who care to come in for a moment of prayer. As an aid in these devotions, "The Upper Room," a devotional booklet is furnished to all worshippers. The sanctuary opens at 7 o'clock each morning.

In days as packed with destiny as those ahead of us we need to pray for divine guidance for our own stability, the direction of our nation, the salvation of an insane world bent on destroying itself. We urge you to go to your churches and implore God's guidance so that His presence might be felt in your lives. In the words of John S. Dwight:

God is living, working still;
All things work and move;
Work, or lose the power to will,
Lose the power to love.

REV. MILO J. VONDRAČEK

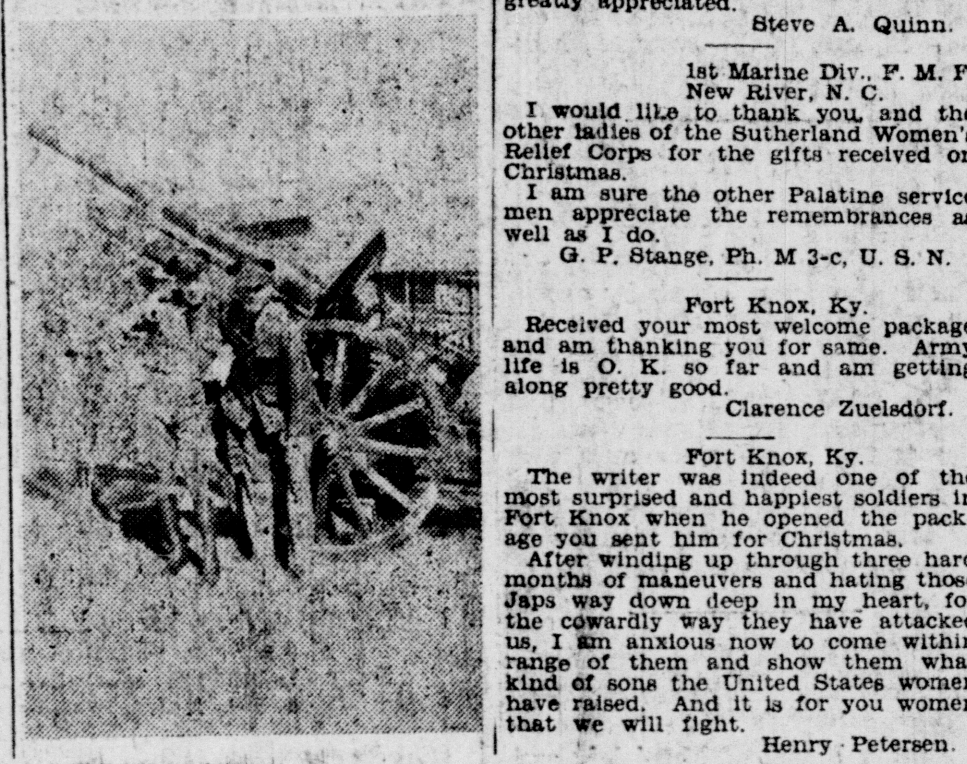

Room," a devotional booklet is furnished to all worshippers. The sanctuary opens at 7 o'clock each morning.

These boys voice thanks for Christmas packages

Sutherland WRC of Palatine has received a number of letters from boys in service to whom they forwarded Christmas packages. These boys are unable to send their personal greetings to their many friends in Palatine, but the published extracts from the letters that have been received by Mrs. Elnora Foster, secretary of the Relief Corps, will be interesting to their friends at home. Palatine Post of the American Legion enclosed a carton of cigarettes with each WRC package.

December 28, 1941.
Sunday afternoon.

Dear Friends:
I received your grand gift box for Christmas and wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart. It really makes me feel good to know that the people back home still think of you. You may think it's quite odd when I tell you that I was the only one to receive a small gift, from such an organization as yours, in our troop. So on behalf of myself and the boys I wish to tell you, and all the people that had part in it, that we think you're tops.
You probably have not heard much about our troop. We are a troop of 134 men and 6 officers. It consists of 16 scout cars, 12 jeeps, 12 motorcycles, 3 trucks consisting of supply, maintenance, and kitchen. I pick up truck and I command car. We are a cavalry troop and wear the uniform consisting of boots and breeches.
We had one of the sweetest Christmas here this year, even if we weren't allowed passes. They had so many different things to eat and drink that one just couldn't try to eat everything. This being my first Christmas in camp was certainly a grand one. I have met so many friends here in the state of Washington, it almost feels like home.
Before I close this letter I wish to thank you again for the well gift and thank everyone who had part in it. I certainly am proud to be a part of the great army and to do my small part for such good people as you.
Sincerely yours,

The writer was indeed one of the most surprised and happiest soldiers in Fort Knox when he opened the package you sent him for Christmas. After winding up through three hard months of maneuvers and having those days way down deep in my heart, for the cowardly way they have attacked us, I am anxious now to come within range of them and show them what kind of sons the United States women have raised. And it is for you women that we will fight.

I want to thank the Sutherland Women's Relief Corps for the Christmas I received this morning. I also extend Christmas and New Year greetings to all my friends in Palatine and wish them all the success and happiness in the world.
It's little gifts like these which you have sent out that make a person realize that the world is not all bad and that there is still a lot worth saving and fighting for in this world. And we'll do it too, if everyone back home will cooperate in every way, including the little remembrances which may be small in size but are momentous in importance and feeling.

Leona Saathoff, R. N. hopes to return soon from Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Saathoff, Palatine, have received a letter from their daughter, Leona Saathoff, who is a nurse in Hawaii. The letter was necessarily meager on account of censorship, but she made it plain that nothing would please her more than to be able to return to Illinois. Miss Saathoff is employed on a plantation of Libbey, McNeil & Libby on an island sixty miles from Honolulu. No bombs were dropped in her immediate vicinity. The letter is the first that her parents have received since a telegram forwarded immediately after the Pearl Harbor attack.

Lowly Pig Useful
The lowly pig has its special uses. Its bristles are used in making brushes. Pork skin makes good fishing bait. Pig fats go into wools, finishes, candle stock, cosmetics, polishes and even into tar roofing and paving. Finally, from glycerine, derived from hogs, are manufactured explosives.

Arlington Theatre Benefit Nets Red Cross $700

The new Arlington was filled to capacity at the pre-opening Red Cross benefit December 30. Thanks to the generosity of Balaban & Katz who released the picture, the Lucas Theatre corporation, owners of Arlington Theatre and a resident of Stonegate who paid unavoidable costs, net receipts amounted to $701, which Mrs. Geo. Hartford is turning over to George Schneberger in the accompanying picture.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary:

There are "blue Mondays" scattered plentifully throughout the year, but to me the most anticlimactic day of all is "the day after Christmas." After weeks of planning, shopping and expectation, then the excitement of the day itself. I've a woebegone, let down feeling today. Estelle and I went to much trouble and worked hard to get this house immaculately clean for the holidays. You should see it this morning. Toys everywhere—the candles on the mantle burned down—one of the paper angels' heads has come unglued and is hanging down in a forlorn manner. The little carolers who held their candles all down one side of their faces—the hearth is dark and full of ashes—there are crumbs of fruit cake on all of the rugs and empty Tom and Jerry mugs sitting all about the dining room—ah me! So I say to myself, what better time to write to my oldest and dearest friend? I picture you out there on the farm having much the same sort of feeling.

First of all, I must thank you for your beautiful and generous basket of preserves. I thank you in the name of my entire family, because we're all enjoying them. Dave carried them down to the basement for me and I arranged them on the shelves of my cold closet. You don't know the pleasure it gives me to see them sitting there in rows with your own writing on the pretty labels. Estelle was all for opening a jar of pickles immediately, Dave wanted some jelly and Dave the wax beans, but I couldn't bear to start in so soon. I did let them have some rhubarb Christmas morning. It was delicious and the proper start for a special breakfast. This made us think of you folks and Dave wanted to know if "George" was eating rhubarb too. (The taste was new to him and he wasn't sure whether he liked it or not). I assured him that "George" was surely eating his at that very moment so he dutifully finished his plate of it. Perhaps the greatest compliment your gift has received is a silent one from Louis. He has carried the empty jar around all morning, hugging it close in his fat arms. He unscrews the top, removes the rubber, looks at both a minute very critically, then puts them on again. This process has been repeated by him endlessly. He's paid no attention to his new hobby horse, wooden train or drum. This seems to prove that one goes to unnecessary trouble and expense for a small child. We might just as well have bought him a few new toys. If I can find the time next summer or fall, between feeding and airing the new baby, I want you to teach me how to put things up. Will you? With the prices of food going up and no one knowing what the war is going to mean to us, I think it's an art we city women better learn.

Speaking of our new baby, a package came yesterday addressed to "Charlotte Mary." It was from the aunts, Jeanne and Mate, and proved to be a beautiful little dress—extremely feminine! "The family" has expressed itself very definitely as being in favor of my having a girl this time. I know that you and Charlie want a girl in spite of the way you both humor me by pretending that you'll enjoy another boy. Dave gave himself away last week. He dropped in at Doctor Cornell's office early to leave a message for me with the girl at the desk, telling me where he'd meet me after my appointment. The girl laughed when she told me about it. She said he came breezing in all smiles and said, "Please give this message to my wife. She'll be in here later. I hope, to make arrangements for presenting me with MY DAUGHTER, Charlotte Mary." Can you beat that? The sly fellow! Dave's remark had evidently been repeated to the doctor because the first thing he said was, "So you want a girl this time." said, "I don't, that was just my poor, benighted husband speaking. You keep right on ordering sons for me." In the face of all this, I feel guilty in still wanting another boy, but I DO—so much. All my plans and dreams are centered around Jewel Dow. Dave and I could turn our big bedroom over to the three boys—we can have bunk beds in there and yet have plenty of room for toys. But a girl. There isn't room here at Shady Rest for a girl. Anyway, from my prejudiced viewpoint, it seems a pity to go through nine months of discomfort (to put it mildly) simply to produce another woman in a world already overburdened with the no-nerving creatures. I've packed the new dress in my suitcase for the baby to wear when we bring it home, regardless of whether it's a boy or a girl, because in these hard times I really don't expect a third child to have anything NEW. I'm bound to feel a little sorry for Louis. He'll soon be the forgotten man around here. Dave will always have the dignity of the "first born," of being junior and having the very same names that Daddy has. The baby will be fondled, admired and played with by every one. But where does the middle child come in? You must give me some advice from your store of experience concerning this situation.

We can hardly wait until next Sunday, when we drive out to Hill Top to have dinner with you. I'm hoping for snow. I know the farm will look like one of Dale Nichols' lovely winter scenes if it's covered with a blanket of snow. Dave wants to hear your concert. He remembers the details from your last letter, so you'll have to persuade Uncle Rob to bring out his violin. Bob his accordion, Jack his trombone, George his bugle and Edward his drum. Look through all your old music for Estelle's favorite songs. You might as well have them handy, because you know she'll demand them, and want to hear you sing more than any thing else. Dave wants to see your decorations. He wants to compare notes with Rob to find out which one of them works the hardest cutting to a wife's whimsies. Louis seems to be the only one of us with "no ax to grind." He'll be happy just to be with you all and have you notice him.

Until then—my love to you, As always, Eleanore.

Something Good Has Happened In Arlington Heights

Lots of good things have happened in Arlington Heights during late years and people of our community are feeling a pride in the high rank our city is taking among the many fine places in the metropolitan area. After all there is a satisfaction in knowing that "your town" is taking its place in the sun and moving forward to better things. But these good things have come to us because we all have had faith in our community and have worked together to make it better.

As the new year opens something good has again happened in Arlington Heights. The community has a theater . . . one of the smartest and up-to-date in the Chicago suburbs. Nowadays a good theater is just about as important as a bank in an up-and-coming city. It has a distinct value to the business community. When thousands of dollars were invested in the new Arlington, the proprietors showed their faith in the community and the people who live here. We must show our faith in them.

Since this good thing has come to all of us, let us show our gratitude by making the Arlington our own movie house throughout the year.

Botanic Collections
 When Pharaoh Thotmes II waged conquest wars in Syria and Palestine, he ordered botanic collections made of "the beautiful flowers," and had the results published as a bas-relief on walls in Egypt at Karnak.

Queen Victorias Tea
 Even at formal teas Queen Victoria drank tea from her saucer. During the time of her reign, this mode of tea-sipping was perfectly proper. The British queen considered it the only civilized way to drink tea.

Palatine and Bensenville Clash This Friday

Arlington Travels to Woodstock in Northeast Conference

by G. A. McELROY

There are plenty of examples we could list to prove the point that one consistently good scorer changes a mediocre team into a championship ball club. We have had the case of Edelman of Centralia as the best example. Playing with four boys of very mediocre ability Edelman has been maintaining his scoring pace of last year which was something slightly better than 21 points a game. Centralia won the Pontiac holiday tournament which included the best teams of central Illinois. In his first six games this season Edelman scored 128 points. Last year in 45 contests his total was 969 for an all time state record. Right now Edelman is as good a ball player as the best college players in the Big 10 and that is saying plenty.

An All State Prospect

Nearer home we have another example in Judson of Hebron. All the Hebron giants graduated last year but Judson had just a fair reserve squad last year and were supposed to be way below par in the current campaign. Then Judson who is a junior but played in the state tournament as a freshman, took command and the Hebron team has been whipping all comers. About every other game Judson scores over 20 points. He hit the nets for 25 of his team's 31 as they bested M-rango in the county tournament semi-finals last week, and then when Harvard played a zone against Hebron in the final and had two men cover Judson they opened things up for him to feed two of his teammates who collected six baskets apiece. It was the fifth straight year that Hebron has won the McHenry county tournament.

Negro Team Has Great Center

A third example is Clifton, the six foot six in center of the DuSable high school colored team which won the University of Chicago holiday tournament open to Chicago schools. Clifton scored 45 points in the semi-final game and came back with 25 in the final tilt against Marshall. Clifton is sought after by the Harlem Globe Trotters as he graduates at the end of the present semester. Israel Acker, midjet forward of the Marshall high team scored over 40 points in two successive games in the same week recently. He also graduates at midyear.

They whipped a mediocre Hinckley team 37-18 in the final after beating a fine Sycamore five by 35-28 in the semi-finals. Hinckley nosed out Belvidere 23-22 to gain the final round after beating Byron 23-22 in the opening round and Shabbona 18-17 in the quarter-finals. Palatine was seeded into the upper bracket and was slated to go to the finals. This could have been accomplished by playing just average ball but Palatine was so far below par that they were never in the ball game with Shabbona. Waterman has a very smooth combination which is to date undefeated and includes three of last year's team which went to the state quarter-finals.

Big 10 Plays 15 Game Schedule

With the Big 10 basketball season underway it might be interesting to list a few of the records of the league which boasts some of the best basketball in the nation. The Big 10 is playing a 15 game schedule this year for the first time with each team playing six opponents home and home and single games with three others. This increase over the usual 12 game schedule will knock a lot of the old records out of the books.

Illi Have Four Soph Regulars

We are pretty stuck on that team Doug Mills has at Illinois with the four sophomores in the regular lineup. Philip of Granite City, Smiley of Waterman, McKee of Dundee, and Vance of Clinton are first year men on the Illinois team and they really appeared to be class at Madison Saturday when they whipped Wisconsin, last year's Big 10 champ, by a count of 55-40. Purdue and Spaul of O'Fallon, Illinois, and Blanken of Dundee as leading scorers is expected to be a real title threat and near by Northwestern which finished just out of the cellar last year has a contender this year due to the great all round ability of Otto Graham, the sophomore, a flash from Waukegan.

Some Big 10 Records

But getting back to the records. Here are they are:
1. In the 36 years that a Big Ten game championship has been decided the honor was won outright 22 times. Purdue has won or shared 13 titles, and Wisconsin follows with 12.
2. The record for most points scored in a 12-game season is the 536 made by Wisconsin's 1941 champions.
3. Purdue owns the record for most points scored in a single game, that being the 69 that the Boilermakers tallied against Indiana in 1937.
4. "Chuck" Carney, the Illinois all-time great, still holds the individual scoring mark with 188 points, but that's been discredited because when he set the mark in 1920, one player could shoot all the team's foul shots. The accepted

Cards fight to keep pace with leaders

Niles risks top position at Crystal Lake

N. W. Conference Games Friday
Arlington at Woodstock.
Libertyville at Leyden.
Crystal Lake at Niles.
Lake Forest at Warren.

Teams of the Northeast Conference resume play Friday after a three week layoff since December 19. Crystal Lake and Woodstock took part in the McHenry county tournament but were knocked off decisively by Marengo and Harvard in the first round. Niles, the league leader kept in shape by taking a trip and meeting Sheldon and Watseka.

The big game on Friday's card appears to be the Crystal Lake at Niles tilt. The Northeast race to all appearances has become a four team affair with Niles undefeated and Libertyville, Arlington, and Crystal Lake just a game behind. Woodstock and Warren appear strong enough to top some of the leaders Leyden and Lake Forest are much weaker than usual and can hardly hope for much success against the big four leaders.

Whether Niles can remain in the undefeated ranks for long is questionable and the Trojans will receive major tests the next two Fridays. This week they meet Crystal Lake, one of the best scoring teams among the leaders, but a team that has not shown too much defensive ability. Next week Niles plays another of the chief rivals, Arlington Heights, on the Cardinals' court. It will be the only meeting between Cards and Trojans this year. Niles beat Libertyville, the third leading rival 32-30, but has to play the Wildcats again and must meet Crystal Lake twice.

Niles ought to come out on top against the Lakers' Friday, but will have tougher going at Arlington. In other games this week Arlington has no set up in taking on Woodstock away from home. Ken Zimmerman's boys can play some mighty good ball and are getting better as they go along. They have a .500 rating and probably won't figure in the final standings but watch out for an upset. Arlington should beat the Blue and White clad team and Libertyville's giants have a decided edge over Leyden. Warren is the favorite over Lake Forest.

mark under modern rules is 184, made by Jewell Young of Purdue in 1938.
5. No player ever has made more than 13 field goals in a single game, but that's been done five times by as many different players. They are Otto Stangel of Wisconsin against Iowa in 1912, Charley Murphy of Purdue against Ohio State in 1930, Young of Purdue against Illinois in 1937, Ernie Andres of Indiana against Illinois in 1938, and Bill Hapac of Illinois against Minnesota in 1940.

Pirate record of 20 straight threatened

League title at stake in Friday's game

N. W. Conference Games Friday
Bensenville at Palatine.
Northbrook at Barrington.
Wauconda at Grant.
Antioch at Elia.

One of the best week-end schedules of the season is on tap in the Northwest loop as the teams go into action following the holidays. The conference lead is at stake as Bensenville's high scoring quintet travels to Palatine with hopes of stopping the Pirates' long winning streak of 20 straight league victories. If the Bisons win they will be in a tie with Palatine and Antioch for the league lead.

Antioch's position as a contender is also at stake at Elia where the Bears could win if they reverted to their form of early season.

Barrington should improve their position at Northbrook's expense. The Bronchos lost their first two starts and then trounced Wauconda and nosed out Bensenville. While out of the running just at present Barrington could still get in on the title by winning all their remaining games as they meet all the contenders again.

Wauconda and Grant have played fine ball, but have lost three out of four in some close contests. They meet each other in what shapes up as a close high scoring battle at Fox Lake.

Getting back to the big game at Palatine Friday it looks as though it would be a case of Palatine height against Bensenville's speed and shooting. The Bisons have six boys who can connect for the field goals if given half a chance and the Pirates will have to do some fast shifting in their zone to keep the Bison scoring down.

Bensenville likes to play a fast open game while the Pirates' pre-midnight style will prevail. Which team can control the ball and get the lead. The outcome will no doubt be a toss up with the possibility of another game such as Palatine played with Antioch not at all unlikely. Condition will count a lot in this game as both teams have had a vacation layoff.

Bensenville's starting lineup will likely be made up of Gutnik and Custer, a pair of rangy forwards; Bumann, a six foot two inch center; and Bormack and Kernats at the guards. Tett who has scored 16 points as a reserve plays at any position. The scoring in four conference games of the starting Bisons is Gutnik 36, Custer 31, Bumann 29, Bormack 13, and Kernats 10. Gutnik and Bumann are seniors, Bormack, Custer and Tett are Juniors, and Kernats is a sophomore.

Just who will start for Palatine is a question but the only five who have scored more than two points in conference games are Schwolow 54, Hoves 35, Harris 22, Warder 12, and Birks 10.

Barrington's recent comeback is due in great part to the sensational basket shooting of a junior named Wollar who has scored 37 points in the two Broncho victories while scoring a total of six in their first two games which resulted in defeats. The Bronchos have been defeating a lot of good teams in afternoon practice games, but when they get before a crowd they seem to fall down.

Wauconda, with a new six footer named Allen playing at guard, will be a lot stronger. The new boy came from Chicago last fall and is the best jumper on the Wauconda squad. However, Oswald who has scored 50 points in four games will be lost to the Wauconda team at the end of the semester which will be a really tough break. Oswald is now in his eighth semester and that's all they allow for athletic competition.

Local five one game behind Niles

Arlington's Cardinals will return to the battle for conference honors Friday night at Woodstock when they meet the Blue Streaks in an encounter of vital importance to the title hopes of both teams. Neither can afford to lose this one. Woodstock has already dropped two games and would be eliminated completely by another defeat.

The Cardinals are one game back of Niles township's leading Trojans, whom they meet at Arlington on Friday of next week. The Cards can get by the Blue Streaks safely, they can meet the Trojans with the added incentive of a chance for first place.

Woodstock has one of the outstanding players of the year in Schimmel, a junior who was a sophomore last year on the team which won the Northeast Conference title. When Schimmel gets some scoring support from Phillips, Kline, and other potential "hot shots" on the team, the Blue Streaks are as tough to beat as any outfit in the conference.

The Cardinals have come along along well since the beginning of practice on November first. Scrimmages with several neighboring teams have developed a passing attack which offsets to some extent the lack of all-around height of the squad. Only one of the seven boys who have been carrying the major burden in the games to date is over six feet tall. Opponents have not had to fear a tall team which could rebound them into defeat merely by standing under the basket.

Good ball-handling by such floor men as Bolte, Hamburg, and Milay has enabled several sharp shooters to work loose for shots from all over the floor. As long as the Cardinals continue to hit a reasonable percentage of their shots, they stand a chance of winning any game on their schedule. They lost their opener to Libertyville when they hit only four percent from the field. In other conference games they have been above twenty percent but never above thirty. Good records by

LAKE FOREST MOVES

AME TO JANUARY 13

In the Northeast conference the schedule is only one fourth completed with four out of eight games played. The Northeasters play their final season games during the week of the state district tournament. For that reason Lake Forest who always plays in the district tournament has their final game with Crystal Lake moved up to January 13. This will be an afternoon game at Lake Forest.

Coleman and Becker in these games have held the average up. The junior-varsity squad, which lost a one-point decision to Crystal Lake's undefeated second team, showed that this was no fluke by taking Leyden's good young team to the cleaners. The cool and confident way in which Coach Campbell's youngsters put the pressure on the Leyden Eagles bodes no good for the junior-varsity squads remaining on the schedule. The Green Tornado squad is made up of a well-mixed number of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors and holds promise of good varsity material for the future.

Fans have turned out in large numbers for all home games and many have traveled to the games at other schools. This support has been good for the morale of the Cardinal squad, which will be an important factor in the difficult schedule remaining to be played.

Becker tops scoring in N.E.; Schwolow N.W.

Becker of Arlington leads Northeast Conference scorers with 51 points for the first four games. Huffmann of Libertyville is in second position with 47. Niles and Lake Forest players have incomplete records as the box score of their game was not reported. No doubt Podrazza of Niles who had 32 points in the first three games is up among the leaders as Niles got only 50 points in the game that was not reported. Glatz was second high for Niles' first three games with 20 points. Sorenson led Lake Forest with 25 points in the incomplete records.

Complete reports from six Northeast schools show Smith of Crystal Lake in third place with 42 points closely followed by Beckman of Libertyville with 41. Other high scorers for four games are Eioisch, Crystal Lake 35; Milay, Arlington Heights 33; Coleman, Arlington Heights 32; Smith, Leyden 32; Schimmel, Woodstock 29; Hall, Warren 28; and Cowan, Crystal Lake 28.

Reports in the Northwest Conference are incomplete with the Antioch-Grant game not reported. Antioch's top scorers in the three games reported were Branstable with 32, Fields 20, and Buchta 19. Grant's best were B. Gerretsen with 29 and his twin brother, E. Gerretsen with 21.

Schwolow Scores 54

Complete reports from six schools show Schwolow of Palatine topping the league with 54 points closely followed by Oswald of Wauconda with 50. Wollar, Barrington's lefty hit a torrid pace in the last two games to bring his total of 43. He is followed by Gutnik of Bensenville with 35, Hoves of Palatine 35, Custer of Bensenville 31, Kropp of Elia 29, Bumann of Bensenville 29, and Pankonin of Wauconda 27.
